

Revo Accelerates as the Exclusive Advanced Air Mobility Partner for the F1 GP in São Paulo.

São Paulo, 8th November 2024 – Revo, OHI Group’s advanced air mobility solutions provider, is pleased to announce the successful delivery of premium air mobility services for travellers attending the Grand Prix in São Paulo by helicopter. Over the event's three days, Revo managed a total of 112 flights and flew 39 shuttle flights using its twin-engine double-piloted helicopters, redefining the standard of efficiency and safety in passenger transportation and landing operations.

With its exclusive air mobility service, tailored specifically for high-end clients, Revo transported fans and participants between the Interlagos circuit and the city centre, offering a seamless and luxurious experience, reducing travel time by more than 80%. Revo also managed all the flights for those customers who chose alternative helicopters. At the circuit, Revo recreated its premium lounge, providing all passengers an oasis of comfort and style, and embodying the brand’s signature attention to detail.

“Our role at São Paulo’s GP held at Interlagos last weekend goes beyond transportation; elevating service to an unprecedented level,” said João Welsh, CEO of Revo. “Through our unique air mobility solutions, we are committed to delivering speed, safety, and unparalleled customer service, aligning perfectly with the adrenaline-fueled nature of GP São Paulo.”

This successful operation at the Interlagos GP São Paulo highlights Revo’s agility and commitment to the highest standards of performance and safety.

About Revo
